Murray High To Play Hopkinsville

Murray High will play Hopkinsville tonight at 8:00 p.m. at the Holland Stadium. The game was postponed yesterday after it had rained for most of the day.

The band will perform at the half time according to director Levin Gilson.

The post-game party normally held after the game was held last night in the school cafeteria.

The Halloween Carnival which was to be held tonight, sponsored by the Senior class, has been postponed to Monday night because of the ball game. There will be no Teen Town tonight either.

Diddle To Coach Western Today

By UNITED PRESS
Western Kentucky's famed Uncle Ed Diddle will be on the sidelines as coach of the football team against Louisville tonight, but it isn't entirely a new assignment for the sad-faced cage mentor.

Diddle, who is substituting for ailing Jack Clayton, was a member of the football team at Centre College which rocked the football world of 1929 by defeating Harvard University.

Uncle Ed also coached the football team at Western for seven years before devoting his talents exclusively to basketball.

The Hilltoppers weren't supposed to give the Louisville Cardinals too much of a battle, but you can be certain Uncle Ed will be asking the boys to whip up a batch of good news for Clayton, who was flown to the Mayo Clinic Friday with a suspected cancer condition.

Morehead State, in the trough of a 26 game losing wave, tries to kick back from the bottom today against a tough Ohio Valley Conference foe, Murray.

Murray has had its troubles this year in compiling a 3-3 record. The record seemed to be a good bet for the boys after whipping Louisville in the opener, but since they have lost two OVC games to Eastern and Tennessee Tech and a non-league tilt to Memphis State.

Unlucky Centre journeys to Hanover College in Indiana; Eastern entertains Morris Harvey at Richmond; and Georgetown winds up the season at home with Carson Newman.

"Voice" Winner To Be Broadcast

Bill Boyd, chairman of the Voice of Democracy Contest, announced today that the finals will be broadcast over WNBC, Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

This program is sponsored by the Murray Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the cooperation of WNBC.

The winners of the contest will be announced immediately following the broadcast.

Birthday "Mother Of Exiles," Yesterday

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP) — Her name, Mother of Exiles, wrote Emma Lazarus, and yesterday was her 68th birthday.

The great green copper lady of New York Harbor will have one birthday party at her doorstep and two others, at Chicago and Cleveland.

The Statue of Liberty, which has presided in spirit if not in presence, over the entrance of some 27,500,000 immigrants since her dedication, Oct. 28, 1886, will welcome 1,101 more in person today. They will sail before her on the Navy transport General Langfitt, Europeans beginning a new life under auspices of the Refugee Relief Act.

Miss Frances Willis, U.S. Ambassador to Switzerland, will be the major speaker at ceremonies on the lady's birthday at the museum of the American Museum of Natural History.

At Chicago, representatives of national groups will gather at lunch under auspices of the local committee of the American Museum of Natural History. Cleveland will celebrate Liberty's birthday on Saturday under auspices of the local museum group.

The statue, a gift of the people of France to the people of the United States, was dedicated by President Grover Cleveland 15 years after she was born in the mind of sculptor Frederic Auguste Bartholdi. The giant figure was hammered from copper sheets over wooden models and today bears a green patina.

Many Attend Griffith Funeral

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP) — One of the largest gatherings of baseball personalities since Babe Ruth died is expected here Monday to pay last respects to Clark Griffith, baseball's "goodwill ambassador" who died Thursday.

Funeral services for the 85-year-old owner-president of the Washington Senators and co-founder of the American League will be held at 11 a.m. at Mt. Vernon Methodist church. Burial will be in the Fort Lincoln cemetery.

The list of honorary pallbearers includes President Eisenhower and former Presidents Hoover and Truman, Korean President Syngman Rhee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, former Vice President John V. Nance, baseball officials, members of the Washington club, and the press, radio and television.

Griffith, who devoted 69 years of his life to baseball as a pitcher, manager and owner died Thursday night after a five-day struggle with cancer.

Scores of sympathy messages have been received by Griffith's family, including messages from Mr. Eisenhower, Mr. Truman and baseball greats, Ty Cobb, Eddie Lopat, Ed Stanky, Buddy Myer, Al Schacht, Hagk Greenberg and others.

Mayfield People Die In Accident

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 29 (AP) — A teen-aged boy and an infant were killed Friday and four persons were injured seriously in a crash of three cars, and a truck on Ind. 39 near here.

Charles McMullen, 19, Indianapolis, and Michael Horn, eight-months, Mayfield, Ky., both were killed.

Injured were the child's parents, James Horn, 29, and his wife, Hilda, 23, Mayfield; James Peeman, Indianapolis, in whose car McMullen was riding; and Harold Ritchie, 23, Indianapolis.

State police said Horn attempted to pass a semi-trailer truck driven by Charles J. Tienener, Owensboro, Ky. Authorities said the truck struck the oncoming Peeman car, then in turn was struck from behind by Ritchie's auto.

The truck rammed into the wreckage.

NOTE

The Murray High Senior Class Halloween Carnival scheduled for tonight at Darans Tobacco Bar at 5:30 will not be held. It will be held on Monday night instead.

No New Clues In Murder Of Three Boys

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP) — "No new clues, no new suspects," Dealey, head of a special police unit on the case.

With these words, Chicago police admitted for the first time today that they are up against a blank wall in the sadistic slaying of three schoolboys.

The words came from Lt. Patrick Dealey, head of a special police unit on the case.

At the same time, Dealey announced that 18 crack detectives of his specially formed 52-man unit have broadened the search for the killers of the boys, Robert Peterson, 13, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11.

The nude, mutilated bodies were found stacked in a ditch in a wooded forest preserve 11 days ago.

The detectives were assigned to comb railroad yards, shanties, fields and wooded areas to the west of the preserve.

Two of the crack officers were personally assigned to the case on Friday by police commissioner Timothy O'Connor.

They are Tom Devitt and Jack Lubben. They recently worked on the dramatic case of Richard Carpenter, who killed one cop and wounded another and then hid in an apartment where he was trapped for days until he was slain after attending a G.I. dance obtaining a confession from a soldier.

The boys vanished on a Sunday night, Oct. 16, after leaving their northwestern state homes in the afternoon to attend a movie.

Food Costs To Be Studied

"Let's Learn to Cut Food Costs" is to be the theme of the lesson at the Adult Class meeting on Tuesday evening, November 1, from 7:00-9:00 in the Home Economics department of Murray Training School.

The class will be meeting each Tuesday evening for several weeks to learn and discuss some methods in saving time, money and energy in homemaking.

The instructor is Miss Irene Hulse, supervising teacher, Home Economics, Murray State College.

There is no charge for attendance at the classes. All women of this area are invited to attend.

Get Acquainted With Your Health Department

Question: What Services Does Your Health Department Render To Make Sure You Have Safe Milk?

Answer: Milk is nature's most nearly perfect food. There are many people concerned with getting to you a safe and good tasting bottle of milk. One of these groups is your Health Department.

From the dairy farm to the bottle or carton, your milk supply is inspected, sampled and supervised. Each dairy farm, cows, pigs, cans, plant, equipment, and even the vehicles that haul milk are all a part of the production of clean safe milk. Your Health Department maintains a record of inspection and laboratory reports on each dairy farm and each milk processing plant must maintain a rather high record to continue selling grade "A" milk. This service rendered by your Health Department is a service to all of us.

This Week's Balance Sheet In The Hot And Cold War

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The week's good and bad news on the international balance sheet:

The Good

1. The foreign ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia met in the white marble Palace of Nations in Geneva, Switzerland. The topics for discussion were the reunification of Germany, European security, disarmament and development of diplomatic contacts between West and East. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have expressed guarded hope that some advance may be made toward the goal of lessening international tension. No startling agreements were expected. But it was forecast that sufficient progress would be made to justify another conference later.

2. A new republic was proclaimed in the state of Southern Viet Nam in Indochina, with American-supported Ngo Dinh Diem as president and premier. The charge came about as the result of a referendum in which leader instead of Bao Dai, Emperor of Vietnam, was chosen.

3. Secretary Dulles announced that he will visit President Tito of Yugoslavia on Nov. 6, during a week-end recess in the Geneva negotiations. The visit was expected to strengthen relations between the United States and Tito, whom the Russians are trying to get back into their camp.

The Bad

1. The enmity between the Arab states and Israel intensified dangerously. There was continued talk by some Israeli elements that it might be a good idea to launch a "preventive war" against Egypt. Israeli Prime Minister Moshe Sharett flew to Paris and Geneva to ask the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France for arms to offset those which Communist Czechoslovakia is supplying to Egypt. In Geneva, Sharett arranged to confer with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov. The State Department in Washington insisted, despite Israeli denials, that the Communist countries had offered to sell weapons to Israel.

2. France was threatened by a new cabinet crisis. Premier Edgar Faure was forced to seek a vote of confidence in parliament on his North African policies. His difficulties were complicated by the rejection of the proposed statute for the Saar coal region. The fight against the statute, which was given the Saar "European" status, was led by a former German Nazi.

3. The Chinese Communists started an official radio broadcast, to demand the little Portuguese colony of Macao, which lies at the mouth of the Canton River across from British Hong Kong. There was some suspicion that the Reds might have been encouraged by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, who is trying to force Portugal to give up its possessions on the Indian coast.

Cold Front Spills Over The South

By UNITED PRESS
A cold front swept into the South's "tomorrow" today and wiped out all equally weather in its path.

Scattered twisters and other sudden wind blasts damaged homes in Louisiana, Alabama and Tennessee Friday. But only three minor injuries were reported.

The front was accompanied by widespread rains from the Mississippi Valley to the Gulf Coast.

Meanwhile, heavy flurries flurried into southeastern Wyoming and northern Colorado, and the East continued to warm up.

Temperatures over the Eastern Plains and the Mississippi Valley fell between 15 and 23 degrees from those at the same time Friday.

Precipitation was general from the upper and middle valley southward into the Gulf States, with more widely scattered showers over the northern Rockies and along the Washington and Oregon coasts.

In the East, temperatures continued to climb. Charleston, S.C., was 67, up 22 degrees from Friday; Elkins, W. Va., was 60, up 23 degrees; and Tallahassee was 63, up 18.

In Los Angeles, bad smog conditions were predicted today with backward burning permitted only late this afternoon.

Mary Lisa Ellis And Alfred Lindsay Are New Citizens

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Ellis are the parents of a seven pound eleven ounce daughter who was born at the Murray General Hospital Wednesday afternoon at three fifty five o'clock. She was named Mary Lisa. Mrs. Ellis is in room 301 at the hospital.

The Ellis' have one other child. She is Patricia Ann, eight years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis are the owners of The N. B. Ellis Store on East Main St. They have made their home at 205 S. Eighth Street since coming to Murray last December.

Another "new" Murrayan who made his first appearance on October twenty sixth was baby Alfred Douglas Lindsay who made his debut promptly at two forty a.m. He tipped the scales at six pounds and five ounces. Alfred Douglas has one sister who is three years old. Her name is Phyllis. His father is Alfred Lindsay, the owner of Lindsey Jewelry Store. His mother is the former Miss Jean Farris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Farris. The Lindsays make their home on Farmer Avenue.

Mrs. Edwin Cain Resting Well At Home On Twelfth

Mrs. Edwin Cain is resting well at her home on South Twelfth Street following a recent operation. Mrs. Cain underwent surgery at Vanderbilt Hospital in Nashville October sixteenth.

She remained in the Nashville hospital until the following Sunday when she returned to her home in Murray.

Although Mrs. Cain is confined to her bed most of the time, she is able to be up part of the time. She said she was very pleased with the progress she is making and that she is feeling much better. She was in Nashville last Wednesday for a check up and will have to return to Nashville in three weeks for further check ups.

The Cains moved into their modern new home just a few months ago. They have three children.

Bandit Spills Loot On Sidewalk

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 29 (AP) — A widespread search continued today for a luckless bank bandit who spilled $8,200 of his $15,000 loot on a crowded rain-swept sidewalk as he fled from the robbery scene.

Rain obviously weakened the paper bag in which he was carrying the money, stolen from the East Broadway Branch of the First National Bank here late Friday.

Scattered pedestrians and police picked up the soaked bills and returned them to the bank. Charles P. Edwards, 40, Louisville, one of the first passers-by to spot the spilled currency said, "That ain't real," and walked away.

Bank manager Charles M. Kelley said the man, who was young and wearing sunglasses, eluded the door open as he was closing for the day.

"He said he wanted to make a deposit, so I let him in," Kelley said.

Kelley said the man went to a wall counter, where he thought he was writing a check. The robber then drew a 45 caliber automatic and told bank employees to look at the floor.

He forced Kelley and six employees to the rear of the bank and then steered the robbers to two tellers' cages. He gave Kelley the paper bag and told him to put the currency in, but then had Kelley hold the bag as he scooped in bills.

He emptied the two drawers, then warned, "If anybody follows me, I'll shoot them," and fled.

Recovered bills totaled $8,200 but $6,712 still is missing, Kelley said.

The same branch bank was robbed last Oct. 29 by three armed bandits who took $16,000. The earlier robbery occurred during a visit to the city by President Eisenhower, while much of the police force was on duty at Standiford Field, where the President spoke.

64 Year Old Man Faces Fine, Term In Counterfeiting

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 29 (AP) — Francis Leroy Henning, 64, today faced a 10-year prison term and a $15,000 fine for his second unsuccessful fling at making nearly perfect counterfeit money.

Federal agents planned to return Henning to Philadelphia, where a warrant for his arrest was issued when secret service agents tagged him as the maker of $15,000 worth of bogus nickels.

Henning was arraigned here Friday after federal agents seized him in his one room flat and confiscated unfinished printing plates for $5 bills.

Agents said he admitted passing $5,000 worth of bad nickels to banks and dumping $10,000 worth of the Skunkkill River when "things got hot."

Henning explained he had made the phony five cent pieces with the dates 1944, 1945 and 1946 and the letter "P" for Philadelphia mint stamped on them. He fled Pennsylvania when a bank clerk noted the letter "P" on a 1945 coin and thought it was a mistake because the mint had ceased printing the letter "P" nickels after 1944.

A newspaper story warned Henning and he fled to Cleveland.

Agents Find Press

Agents later found his printing press in a New Jersey factory which printed the coins under 250,000 pounds pressure. They smashed the machinery and confiscated 67,000 blank discs waiting to be made into money.

While Henning's accomplices continued to pass the counterfeit coins he started preparing the $5 bill plates. He worked as an engineer for a Cleveland firm at $700 a month to buy material.

Henning said he perfected his money making machines while serving a previous counterfeit term in 1939. His machine turned out nickels, dimes and quarters, but he only passed nickels because they were the nearest to perfect.

Only Flaw

According to chief agent R. E. Homes, the only flaw in the nickels was the letter "R" in "E Pluribus Unum" and it was extremely hard to detect.

Bank tellers in Philadelphia and Newark and Camden, N.J., accepted the coins without question. Henning posed as a vending machine owner to avoid suspicion.

His first try at depositing the money in banks almost led to exposure. He presented a batch of 1944 nickels to a teller who thought it was strange all the coins bore the same date. After that he bore the same date. After that he bore the same date.

Texas Company Fails To Protest Murray Application

The possibility of natural gas for the City of Murray was increased this week, when the Texas Gas Transmission Company failed to oppose the application of Murray for permission to build a system for the city.

The company could have opposed the application on the basis of cost of service, or on the failure of the city to prove the necessity for the service or upon numerous other grounds.

Negotiations have been underway for the past two years with the Texas Gas Transmission Company and the American Louisiana Pipe Line Company to have Murray served by natural gas.

The American Louisiana Pipe Line Company proposal was dropped by the city, and an all out effort was made to be served by the Texas Company.

The company is at the present time building a parallel line to the existing line running west of the city to Mayfield.

On October 17 of this year, in a hearing before the Federal Power Commission, lawyers representing the City of Murray, Texas Gas Transmission Company representatives were present at the hearing and failed to protest.

Agreement Reinstated

FRANKFORT, Oct. 29 (AP) — Three were patched up again today between the Kentucky State Fish and Wildlife Department and the state of Tennessee in regard to fishing on parts of Kentucky Lake.

Commissioner Earl Wallace said Friday that the two states have reinstated a recreational agreement concerning hunting and fishing licenses.

Under the agreement, a Kentucky license is honored on the Tennessee portions of the lake and a Tennessee license is honored on the Kentucky side of the state line. The agreement applies to a section of Kentucky Lake extending from Exum's Ferry Bridge in Tennessee, or a distance of about 25 miles.

The old agreement was canceled about 10 days ago following what was described by officials of both states as a misunderstanding.

The planes, made by McDonnell Aircraft, St. Louis, were the F3H Demon jet, whose engines were not powerful enough. They are being equipped with more powerful engines, but the subcommittee wants to know why it cost $50,000,000 and lives of four pilots to correct the mistake. (International)

Campy And Roberts Are Team Choices

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Staff Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Catcher Roy Campanella of the Dodgers and pitcher Robin Roberts of the Phillies stood out as unanimous choices today in the 1955 United Press National League All-Star team selected by a ballot of 54 sports writers from all of the cities in the league.
Two other Dodgers, outfielder Duke Snider with 31 votes and pitcher Don Newcombe with 15, also represented the new world champions on the mythical squad. The Cardinals, who finished seventh, nevertheless place two star "perennials" on the team, outfielder Stan Musial with 38 votes and second baseman Red Schoendienst with 37.
Five other clubs each placed one man. Cincinnati slugger Ted Kluszcwski with 47 votes was the first baseman, and Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee, a home run hitter from the other side of the diamond, was named third sacker with 53 votes, all but one. Cub shortstop Ernie Banks was in the center for the first time with 44 votes. Willie Mays, the major league home run champion of the Giants with 31, was the third man in the outfield with 48 votes while Roberts represented the Phils. The only club which failed to place a man was Pittsburgh.
Cite Hor. & Rec. d.
As an All-Star pick, it would be a team to terrify its opposition with long ball power. The eight starters accounted for 331 homers in 1955 and Big Newk as a pitcher set an all-time 5.00, sitting record for National League hurlers with seven.
Mays led with 51. Kluszcwski had 47. Banks set an all-time major league mark for homers by a shortstop with 44. Snider contributed 42. Mathews 41. Musial 33. Campy 32, and Schoendienst 11.
In addition to the power, the squad also boasted a 300+ comparative batting average and all but one of the hitters had marks of 34 or better. Mays led with .319, Musial was .316, Campanella .315, Kluszcwski .314, Snider .309, Banks .298, Mathews .289, and Schoendienst .268.
The pitchers, Roberts and Newcombe, also were the year's winners in the majors. Roberts bested the 20-level for the sixth straight time with a 23-14 mark and Newcombe finished at 20-5 after being retarded in the latter stages of the season with arm trouble.
Bating Champ Overlooked
The team had such power that the voters could not even find a place for the batting champion, Richie Ashburn of the Phillies with a .358 mark. He finished fourth among the outfielders with eight votes. Wally Pate of Cincinnati drew seven. Del Ennis of the Phillies five, Al Furillo of the Braves three, and Hank Aaron of the Braves two.
Others who drew first place votes behind Big Klus at first base were Gil Hodges of the Dodgers with four, Musial with two, although he played most of the year in the outfield, and Joe Adcock of Milwaukee with one vote.
Johnny Temple of Cincinnati was runner-up to Schoendienst at second with 10 votes while Groat

Hammer of the Phils had four and Danny O'Connell of the Braves three.
Mathews, easily the best of the third basemen because of his hitting, missed on only one ballot, that vote going to rookie Ken Boyer of the Cardinals.
At shortstop Johnny Logan of the Braves ran next to Banks with five votes. Redoubtable PeeWee Reese of Brooklyn received four and Alvin Dark of New York three.
Campy, of course, was the whole show behind home plate.
Other pitchers to draw votes were Joey Nuxhall of Cincinnati 3, Bob Friend of Pittsburgh 2, and Bob Buhl of Milwaukee and Johnny Podres of Brooklyn one each.

NEW YORK (AP) — A child shortly will be able to toddle up to a girl companion in the nursery, arch tiny eyebrows and ask, "Whose rompers are those?"
"Claire McCordell did those," the companion can say, modestly, removing her thumb briefly from her mouth.
The designing world has discovered children.
By the age of three a girl can wear snow suits by Olga Cassini and sports clothes by Bruguere. Until this winter, Mama had a corner on these labels.
"How come?" we asked each of the three newsmen in the children's clothes field.
Their answers varied from an easy going, "They asked me to do it," from Miss McCordell to a stiffening criticism of the clothes habits currently popular with the young generation from Thomas Bruguere.
Consistent Award Winner
Bruguere, a consistent award winner for his adult fashions, said emphatically that he has been eager to design little girls' clothes for several years. He will do fashions for girls from three years old through 12 years for Elaine Co. Inc., beginning with a summer collection to be previewed next January.
"These are the formative years," he said. "It is in those years that we are now forming a lack of feminine taste and color sense."
"In the first place," the designer said, settling back with the air of a muf who has wanted to get this off his chest for some time, "I want to take little girls out of dangereous and ugly pull-over shirts."
The whole psychology of women on this country is that they must be competitive with men. But at least when a girl is little, she should not encourage her to compete with boys in the way she dresses. I want to put her in gay pants and feminine shirts. He also will design skirts and dresses.
Family As Models
Cassini said he was prepared for his entry into the kiddies' field by designing he had done for his own two young daughters. When he got the offer from the show suit manufacturer, he simply used his own family as models.
"Anyway, this is the age of the designer," Cassini added, "I want good design in everything. I am ready to do little girls' dresses. I get the right opportunity."

By the age of three a girl can wear snow suits by Olga Cassini and sports clothes by Bruguere. Until this winter, Mama had a corner on these labels.
"How come?" we asked each of the three newsmen in the children's clothes field.
Their answers varied from an easy going, "They asked me to do it," from Miss McCordell to a stiffening criticism of the clothes habits currently popular with the young generation from Thomas Bruguere.
Consistent Award Winner
Bruguere, a consistent award winner for his adult fashions, said emphatically that he has been eager to design little girls' clothes for several years. He will do fashions for girls from three years old through 12 years for Elaine Co. Inc., beginning with a summer collection to be previewed next January.
"These are the formative years," he said. "It is in those years that we are now forming a lack of feminine taste and color sense."
"In the first place," the designer said, settling back with the air of a muf who has wanted to get this off his chest for some time, "I want to take little girls out of dangereous and ugly pull-over shirts."
The whole psychology of women on this country is that they must be competitive with men. But at least when a girl is little, she should not encourage her to compete with boys in the way she dresses. I want to put her in gay pants and feminine shirts. He also will design skirts and dresses.
Family As Models
Cassini said he was prepared for his entry into the kiddies' field by designing he had done for his own two young daughters. When he got the offer from the show suit manufacturer, he simply used his own family as models.
"Anyway, this is the age of the designer," Cassini added, "I want good design in everything. I am ready to do little girls' dresses. I get the right opportunity."

re'll Buy Pork

"WE MAY do very well if we just hold the line," Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson tells reporters in Washington in announcing a move to buy pork and lard to help encourage domestic consumption and assist farmers in adjusting production to demand. The purchased pork and lard will be used in the non-profit school lunch program and other outlets. (International)

TURN ABOUT

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) - Peter James Klussen, 19, a Marine who pleaded guilty to a theft charge Thursday, spotted, hunched at the police station that he thought looked familiar.

They were his - stolen from his car while he was busy loading other autos.

Big Point, Little Headway

PRINCIPAL aim of the west at the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Geneva is progress toward reunification of Germany. But Secretary of State John Foster Dulles expects little to be made. The explosive Middle East situation also is a moot subject.

Dinner Party Held Tuesday Evening For Bride-elect

Miss Frances Lee Farmer, bride-elect of Bob Goebel Neale, was guest of honor at a dinner party at Sue's and Charlie's Tuesday evening. The hostesses were Mrs. Garnett Jones, Mrs. John Farmer, Mrs. W. T. Siedd and Mrs. Ronald Churchill.

Miss Farmer, who was lovely in a fitted torso style satin-cotton dress from her trousseau, wore a white pom-pom corsage, gift of the hostesses, who also presented her with selections of her pottery and a cookbook with added pages containing the favorite recipes of those present.

The centerpiece was an arrangement of white tulip mums and pom-poms accented with silver berries. Miniature wedding rings were attached with tulle and ribbon to the attractive silver and white placecards. Flashlight pictures for the bridesbook were made by Sandra Costello.

Covers were laid for Miss Farmer, Mrs. Roy S. Farmer, Mrs. Bryan Neale, Mrs. Graves Siedd, Mrs. James Thurmond, Mrs. John Whitnell, Mrs. Myrtle J. Wall, Mrs. Robert S. Jones, Mrs. H. B. Bailey, Sr., Mrs. Charles Whitnell and Misses Patsy Rowland, Betty Mayer, Betty Thurmond, Ann Farmer and the hostesses.

Princess Has "Cruel Choice"

LONDON — A Church of England publication summoned the nation today to pray for Princess Margaret, whose obvious heartache and indecision over Peter Townsend has rallied new support to her side.

She gave open evidence of that heartache and fresh evidence that her problem to Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, the archbishop of Canterbury, chief foe of the remarriage of a divorced person.

The Church Times, an unofficial weekly edited by members of the Church of England for its clergy, called for prayers that the princess "may be guided and directed aright" in the debate over whether to marry the man she loves.

There had been a decided swing of opinion against what one newspaper dared to call the "affair" with Townsend, but the growing realization of her inner struggle was winning new support.

The Times of London opened its columns today to a letter of support from Dr. Gilbert Murray, one of Britain's greatest scholars. Mrs. W. E. Blackburn, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. J. H. Coleman, and Mrs. Carlisle Cuthin.

The nation's biggest circulation newspaper, the Daily Mirror, declared journalistic war on the Times for what it termed "a plan to force upon the princess a cruel choice."

The Mirror said the Times had broken its "towards silence" to make "the first sinister move in an ugly plan to force upon the princess a heartless, cruel choice. This is what the Times sets out to tell the princess."

"She must give up Peter Townsend forever. Or she must be banished from the royal circle... and presumably spend the rest of her life like the luckless Windsors, without roots, without purpose, without hope."
